Promotion and protection of human rights: human rights questions, including alternative approaches for improving the effective enjoyment of human rights and fundamental freedoms

Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Peru, United States of America and Uruguay: revised draft resolution

Programme of activities of the International Year for People of African Descent

The General Assembly,

Reaffirming the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,¹ which proclaims that all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights and that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth therein, without distinction of any kind, as well as other relevant international human rights instruments,

Reaffirming also its resolution 64/169 of 18 December 2009, in which it proclaimed the year beginning on 1 January 2011 the International Year for People of African Descent,

Stressing the importance of strengthening national actions and regional and international cooperation for the benefit of people of African descent in relation to their full enjoyment of economic, social, cultural, civil and political rights, their full and equal participation and integration in all political, economic, social and cultural aspects of society, and the promotion of a greater knowledge of and respect for their diverse heritage and culture,

Recalling that, in its resolution 64/169, the General Assembly encouraged Member States and the specialized agencies of the United Nations system, within their respective mandates and existing resources, to identify possible initiatives that could contribute to the success of the Year,

¹ Resolution 217 A (III).

Recalling also the relevant provisions of the outcomes of all major United Nations conferences and summits, in particular the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action² and the Durban Declaration and Programme of Action,³

Recalling further Human Rights Council resolution 14/16 of 18 June 2010,⁴ and welcoming the decision of the Council to convene a panel discussion during the high-level segment of its sixteenth session focusing on the full enjoyment of the human rights of people of African descent, to mark the Year,

Taking note with appreciation of the report of the Secretary-General on the draft programme of activities for the International Year for People of African Descent,⁵

Recalling the human suffering of the victims of slavery and the transatlantic slave trade, and of people of African descent in particular, and the lessons, history and consequences of slavery,

Noting the decision of the African Union on the convening of the African Diaspora Summit, which will be hosted by South Africa in 2012,

1. Takes note of the draft programme of activities for the International Year for People of African Descent;⁶

2. Takes note with appreciation of the ongoing efforts of the Working Group of Experts on People of African Descent and of its recommendation on the theme “People of African Descent: Recognition, Justice and Development” contained in its report;⁷

3. Requests the Secretary-General to establish a voluntary fund for the activities of the Year, to which Member States and all relevant donors are encouraged to contribute;

4. Also requests the Secretary-General to close the International Year for People of African Descent with the convening of a high-level thematic debate on the achievement of the goals and objectives of the Year;

5. Invites Member States to support the implementation of activities for the Year, and to cooperate constructively and decisively to ensure rapid progress and concrete results in the achievement of the objectives of the Year;

6. Encourages Member States, donors and other stakeholders to participate and contribute, on a voluntary basis, to activities related to the Year;

7. Encourages the specialized agencies of the United Nations system, within their respective mandates and existing resources, and intergovernmental organizations, as well as civil society, including non-governmental organizations, to develop activities for the Year, taking into account its goals and objectives and, as a guideline, the draft programme of activities;
